

Anil Sainani

Anil Sainani is the CEO of Dalmia Foundation. Sainani has been successfully working with quite a few Indian Business Families owning/ controlling large cap, mid cap and small cap companies for the past few years. He is the Indian affiliate of Family Business Consulting Group – the pioneer and one of the largest multinational group in the field of family business consulting.

Sainani has taught in Executive Programs on Family Business and Entrepreneurship as a visiting faculty at ISB Hyderabad and IIM Bangalore. He has also conducted workshops and lead discussion on case studies for organizations like Confederation of Indian Industries (CII), All India Management Association (AIMA) and Madras Management Association (MMA).

His other achievements include qualifying in the Indian Civil Services Examination, doing research on planning and managing change in government, contributing papers in journals and newspapers, presenting papers in international conferences, conducting seminars/workshops on self-development and innovating a powerful self-monitoring tool). He has rich and varied work experience in Government of India (Ministry of Railways, Ministry of Environment & Forests) and Public Sector Undertakings (Delhi Metro Rail Corporation).

Sainani's varied educational qualifications include a Post Graduate Diploma in Public Policy and Management from IIM Bangalore, Post Graduate Diploma in Business Management, Diploma in Creative Writing in English and a Bachelors' Degree in Arts.