

A. K. Shiva Kumar, is a development economist and professor. He teaches various courses at Harvard University, Indian School of Business and Young India Fellowship. He currently serves as the Director of the International Centre for Human Development (IC4HD), New Delhi.[2] The IC4HD is a constituent of the United Nations and along with support from the Ministry of Human Resource Development (India).[3] In addition to serving as an advisor to UNICEF – India, he was a member of India's National Advisory Council constituted by the chairperson Sonia Gandhi.[4] The council was set up in June 2004 to oversee the implementation of India's National Common Minimum Programme.