

Vikram Singh Mehta started his career with the Indian Administrative Service (IAS) in 1978. He resigned in 1980 and spent the next 32 years in the petroleum industry both in the Public and private sector. He left the petroleum industry in 2012 as Chairman of the Shell Group of Companies in India. He is currently the Executive Chairman of the think tank Brookings India and senior fellow of Brookings Institution.

VSM has been chairman of the Hydrocarbon Committee of the Confederation of Indian Industry (CII) and is currently a member of its National Council. He is an independent director of Larsen and Toubro Ltd, Mahindra and Mahindra Ltd, Vodafone India Ltd, Colgate Palmolive India Ltd and Thomson Reuters Share Foundation Company. He is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy and on the Board of Governors of the Pandit Deen Dayal University of Petroleum.

VSM was recipient of Asia House's "Businessmen of the year" award for 2010.

VSM has a BA in Mathematics from Delhi University, an MA in Politics and Economics from Oxford University and an MA in Energy Economics from the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, Tufts University. "