Welcome to Mohali
The Open Hand Monument happens to be the most iconic symbol of Chandigarh. In the words of Le Corbusier, it connotes the city’s motto - ‘Open to give, open to receive’. It is perhaps apt that only 15 km from this landmark, in a state-of-the-art campus at Mohali, the Indian School of Business will be opening its doors to thousands of students and their aspirations.

This booklet is compiled to serve as a ready reckoner for you as you join the ISB family at Mohali. As you browse through these pages, you will realise that an exciting lifestyle awaits you in the Tricity of Chandigarh, Mohali and Panchkula. Welcome to ISB’s Mohali campus.

Chandigarh - The Story of Three Cities

The most striking thing about the city is the expanse of resplendent blue sky with the mountains in the backdrop. When you are approaching the city, you would see the jagged skyline of the Shivalik Hills looming large over the city and the faint image of an old temple dedicated to Goddess Chandi, from whom the city got its name.

Chandigarh may appear oddly familiar to Western visitors and idiosyncratic to the rest of India. The city is aptly branded ‘City Beautiful’ with its tree lined roads, big and beautiful roundabouts, parks, shopping areas and renowned Capitol complex for its architecture. The city tops the list of Indian States and Union Territories with the highest per capita income in the country at Rs. 99,262 at current prices and ranks highest on Human Development Index. It has the maximum number of vehicles per capita (2:1) in the country. Yet thanks to wide, well maintained roads and ample car parking, traffic is relatively smooth. You can get to most places within the Tricity within a half hour drive. Chandigarh is a very safe city. With the lowest crime rates in the country you can feel safe at any hour.

Mohali and Panchkula are Chandigarh’s 2 satellite towns and they are together called the Tricity. While Mohali is an extension of Chandigarh into Punjab, Panchkula falls within the state of Haryana. Chandigarh is a Union Territory and is the administrative capital for both the neighbouring states.

After the partition, Punjab became a state without a capital with Lahore going to Pakistan. Shimla in Himachal Pradesh, served as its temporary secretariat. The political leadership decided on the construction of a modern and accessible capital. This was Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru's Dream City of modern India - Chandigarh, the first planned city of India.

The responsibility for the design was given to the French architect, Le Corbusier. With the help of his cousin Pierre Jeanneret, and that of the English couple Maxwell Fry and Jane Drew (along with a number of Indian architects including Chief planner Narinder S. Lamba and Chief Engineer J.C. Verma) Chandigarh came into existence at the foothills of the Shivaliks in 1953.
Le Corbusier conceived the master plan of Chandigarh to be analogous to the human body, with a clearly defined head (the Capitol Complex), the heart (City Centre), the lungs (the leisure valley, innumerable open spaces and sector greens), the intellect (the cultural and educational institutions), the circulatory system (the network of roads, the 7Vs) and the viscera (the industrial area). The concept of the city is based on four major functions: living, working, care of the body and spirit, and circulation. Residential sectors constitute the living part whereas the Capitol Complex, City Centre, Educational Zone (Post Graduate Institute, Punjab University) and the Industrial Area constitute the working part. The Leisure Valley, gardens, sector greens and open courtyards etc. are for the care of body and spirit. The circulation system comprises 7 different types of roads known as 7Vs. A pathway for cyclists called V8 was subsequently added to this circulation system.

The Capitol Complex comprises three architectural masterpieces - the Secretariat, the High Court and the Legislative Assembly, separated by large piazzas. In the heart of the Capitol Complex stands the giant metallic sculpture of The Open Hand, the official emblem of Chandigarh, signifying the city’s credo of ‘open to give, open to receive’.

The City Centre is the heart of Chandigarh’s activities. It comprises the Inter-State Bus Terminus, Parade Ground, District Courts, etc. on one hand, and a vast business and shopping center on the other. The 4-storey concrete buildings house banks and offices above and showrooms/shops at the ground level with wide pedestrian concourses. The Neelam Piazza at the center has fountains with light and water features. Proposal to set up a 11-storey building at Sector 17 is in the offing. Sector 34 is another newly developed commercial sector.

The Tricity is spread over approximately 175 sq kms with a population of about 15 million.

Mohali is now renamed as Sahibzada Ajit Singh Nagar Mohali (SAS Nagar Mohali) in the memory of the Sikh 10th Guru Gobind Singh’s eldest son. The city is famous for its international Cricket Stadium.

Panchkula gets its name from the five irrigation canals that distribute water from the river Ghaggar. The canals are a beautiful example of community property and are maintained by the villagers along the way, with distribution days decided. The prestigious Chandimandir Cantonment Headquarters of the Indian Army Western Command, is also located at Panchkula.
Climate

Chandigarh has cold dry winter, hot summer and sub tropical monsoon and the weather is generally dry. The area experiences summer from mid-March to Mid-June, monsoon from late-June to mid-September, while winter sets in around mid-November and goes on till mid-March. The monsoon and winter is separated by a transitional autumn, which is perhaps the best season of the year. May and June are the hottest months of the year with the mean daily maximum and minimum temperatures being about 37°C and 25°C, respectively. January is the coldest month with mean maximum and minimum temperatures being around 23°C and 3.6°C respectively. Winds are generally light and blow from northwest to southeast direction with exception of easterly to southeasterly winds that blow on some days during the summer season.

Connectivity

The Tricity has a new modern 500 passenger Airport terminal and is all set for much better domestic air connectivity. Few International flights are also expected to commence. Currently there are direct flights to Delhi, Mumbai, Jaipur and Jammu. Flights to Hyderabad, Bangalore, Kolkata, Indore do a brief stopover at Delhi or Jaipur. Train connectivity to Delhi is very good. Journey to Delhi by train is over 3 hours and the Shatabdi is the most preferred service. By road, one takes 4-5 hours to reach Chandigarh from Delhi, depending on the time of the day.

Industry

The Tricity’s GDP is growing at a rate more than the the all India growth. Major companies in Mohali include Airtel, Convergys, Dell, Godrej, ICI Paints, Philips, PUNCOM, Punjab Tractor Limited, Quark, Ranbaxy Laboratories and SCL (Semiconductor Complex Limited). Denver-based Quark is developing the USD 500 million, 46-acre Quark City in Mohali, complete with a residential complex comprising 30% of the ‘city’; the shopping, entertainment, medical, and educational district consume another 10%.

The Rajiv Gandhi Chandigarh Technology Park inaugurated in September 2005 is spread over 400 acres and already boasts of more than 10,000 professionals. Infosys, Bharti Airtel and Tech Mahindra are some of the key players in the area. Rock Garden, Chandigarh is an epitome of creativity and innovation. It is a unique garden that consists of various art objects. But the best part about the rock garden is that each of its artwork has been made by using industrial and urban waste. It is located in Sector 1 between the Capitol Complex and Sukhna Lake. The credit for laying its foundation goes to Nek Chand, who was the then Road Inspector in the Engineering Department of Chandigarh Capital Project. Rock garden has been established in the form of an open-air exhibition hall. The garden houses sculptures made by using a variety of different discarded waste materials like frames, mudguards, forks, handle bars, metal wires, play marbles, porcelain, auto parts, broken bangles etc. Rock garden in Chandigarh, India is a unique creation and connoisseurs come from different parts of the world to see this amazing garden.
